EXPLANATION

ENGLAND. William's conquests are full coloured. Pink, Blue & Yellow, the districts assessed in carucates being further hatched with Red Lines. Districts allotted to the conquerors on the principle of intermixed baronies are coloured Pink. Districts allotted on the principle of compact baronies are coloured Yellow. Important Ecclesiastical franchises are coloured Blue.

FRANCE The Duchy of Normandy is coloured Green. The county of Maine is hatched Green. Districts assisting the Normans in the conquest are edged Green.

The smaller place names entered in England are mostly head manors of baronies; those on the continent indicate the seats from which the more important conquest families took their names.
